Mood is mixed. States that she is confused about the relationship with David. She wants more now and wants him to lessen his relationship with family and focus more on her. Suggested that it might be an unreal expectation to ask him to disconnect from family. Encouraged her to acknowledge his accomplishments and not emphasise his mistakes. Be the better person and take the high ground.

She states that she is the other woman and feels like she is hidden from the family and must be careful not to be seen out with David for fear of him getting in trouble. She states that she wants to break the cycle with him and go on with her life. She is asking me to help her. We agreed to work on it one day at a time.

Client expressed no regret for what she did but at times is fearful that she will never be able to see David again.

States that she wants it over with then states how she wants him to change and come back into her life.

Melody Ross: Progress Note: 5/14/18

Mood is mixed with anxiety and some depression. Ex husband, David has been contacting her to try and get back together. She is overwhelmed and not sure what she wants to do. I encouraged her to not do anything at this time other than take care of herself and think this situation through.

She agreed to do so.

She found that new guy, Paul she has gone out with went to strip club and got very drunk. She is very disturbed by this behavior as it reminds her of her ex who did the same thing and hooked up with strippers.

Melody Ross-Cantu: Progress Note: 11/20/18

Mood appears to be depressed and anxious. Appearance is disheveled with disheveled hair and clothing. Facial skin appears to be irritated and client appears to have gained substantial weight. Client states that she is feeling overwhelmed by the current legal and emotional issues around her spouses kids and ex wife. Client states that there continues to be numerous issues with the legal and civil proceedings around David, her spouses kids and spouse. There is reported to be both civil and criminal pursuits against the David's ex wife and custody issues with children.

Concern was expressed in regard to the toll that all of this appears to be taking on the client.. She stated that she feels that she has no choice but to pursue it for her sense of safety and Davids long term relationship with his two girls.

Client states that she is avoidance and will not go out by herself locally for fear of running into David's kids or family. She is becoming more reclusive and is reported to be becoming agoraphobic. Suggested that it will be hard to help her much with that until such time as the legal issues are resolved., but we could try and help her to be stable as much as possible. She expressed interest in us working on that. We agreed to try and skype weekly until such a time that she can make it to my office.

Mood is depressed and anxious. Reports that she only goes out at late night. Afraid of running into them. OCD is worse with more compulsions. Angry at spouse as well. Developed Shogrun's Disease. Additional heart issues have surfaced. Reports that her appetite has been gone for about a week. Has lost 12 pounds with hair loss and chest pain.

Mood is anxious and depressed. Client is tearful. Client states that she is feeling overwhelmed from her recent jail booking. She states that she feels wronged by spouse's ex. She reminded me that there was never any physical threats or contact when she engaged spouses ex, Sandy. Client burst into tears asking "why is this happening to me? I didn't do anything to her).

2/4/2019 - Joy Ross-Cantu: Progress Note: 2/4/19

Joy Ross-Cantu: Progress Note: 2/4/19

Mood is mixed. Client states that she is overwhelmed by all that has transpired since the issues with spouse's ex began. She states that her health continues to fail with issues with lymph nodes. Had a biopsy last week and will get the results on Wednesday of this week. Client fears that it might be cancer.

States that her OCD has spiraled out of control and she is afraid that nothing can be done to help her at this point.

She is spending much of her time ruminating and has increased avoidance. She barely leaves the house. She states that she has become fearful of running into spouse's ex or her children. She has become more irrational about that fear which concerns this therapist. My concerns for her developing agoraphobia were voiced. Client stated that she believes that she is already agoraphobic at this time.

Client's symptoms are the worst I have seen in her during the time I have known her.

Appearance is disheveled with no makeup and unkempt hair. Eye contact is poor and affect is moderately depressed and anxious.

Melody Ross: Progress Note: 2/20/19

Mood is depressed and anxious as measured by poor posture looking downward, fidgety, low volume and frequent crying. States that she is feeling overwhelmed at his point and does not know how much more "she can handle". Denies any suicidal intent. States that she has lost in excess of 10 pounds in the last month. Client complained of feeling extreme fatigue. She continues to avoid crowds or going out. Has been buying groceries to be delivered. Hypervigilant to cars parked on her street. Increased agitation and feelings of panic occurring more frequently. Ruminates "constantly". Complains that it is getting increasing more difficult to do her job due to the ruminations as well as her moods. Appearance is slightly disheveled with soiled sweater and unkept hair and no makeup.

2/23/2019 - Melody Cantu: Progress Note: 2/23/19

Melody Cantu: Progress Note: 2/23/19

Met with client and her oldest daughter, Maddie. This session was at the request of the client due to her concerns about her daughter due to the stress associated with the issues involving her spouse's, David, ex wife. Maddie, who is typically an excellent student has been having difficulty in school with her grades slipping significantly. Maddie states that she is angry with David's ex wife for making things so stressful on her mom and their family. (Client showed significant anger). I suggested to mom that she try to keep the issues around the issues with Sandy away from the children. She stated that she tries very hard to keep them away, but Maddie has a tendency to ease drop. She and David have gone to the garage and the car to talk at times to avoid the kids hearing about the legal issues with Sandy. Maddie expressed significant concern for her mother's mental health and well being. Stated that she is afraid that Sandy will hurt her mom. Maddie reports anxiety and some depression. (Decreased energy, bouts of crying, anger, lashing out, decreased motivation and bouts of excessive fear. Her hands were sweaty as well).

Appearance was slightly disheveled and very thin. Eye contact was limited. Tearful at times. Hyper at times. Communication was challenging at times. Maddie is very bright and understands various concepts well. Yet, she acted very young for her age.

Mother stated that Maddie has been very neglectful of hygiene such as brushing teeth, showering regularly and her appearance. Her appetite has been up and down. Her sleep fluctuates.

Melody and I discussed some strategies to help her daughter such as more reassurance that things would be OK and keeping any information away from Maddie. When Maddie states that she wants to "help". Tell her that she helps most when she takes care of herself. Client stated that she is trying, but it is hard right now due to her own depression.

The client blames herself for her daughter condition. She stated that all of the chaos and mental issues with her are affecting her family, her work and her general health. Client was tearful expressing sadness for both her daughter's and her situation.

Mood was moderately depressed and anxious. Appearance continues to be disheveled with lack of makeup and unkempt appearance. (Client historically never left her house without full makeup and dressed very well).

Client informed this therapist that her medications don't seem to be helping with her sleep, anxiety or depression. She is going to talk with Dr. again, but is not optimistic since he had reportedly told her that he could not help her much more with medications until she can get her life sorted out a little better.

3/6/2019 - Joy Cantu: Progress Note: 3/6/19

Joy Cantu: Progress Note: 3/6/19

Skyped with client due to being unable to travel to my office. She reports that she only gets out of her bed to work. She spends most of her time in her bed when not working or taking care of her kids.

Client reports that her psychiatrist increased her Zoloft from 50mg daily to 100mg for one week and then to 150mg. Client reports an increase in her OCD with skin picking, picking her nose until it bleeds as well as an increase in rumination and checking. (This is possibly the worst I have seen her OCD in all the years I have known her).
